Special Recall Should Include Apportioning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican losses in the Ohio General Assembly probably mean that next week's special session will be expanded to include legislative re-apportionment.

This was the consensus of political opinion in the capital Wednesday after election tallies showed the Republicans had lost their majority in the Senate and had their margin whittled somewhat in the House. Republicans also lost a top strategist in the defeat of Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, majority leader.

However, Gov. James A. Rhodes said today he would not consider any action in adding to the call of the special session, until after it convenes and he has had an opportunity to talk with leaders and members.

On the bases of unofficial returns, the new assembly convening in January would show the parties divided 16-16 in the

Santa Claus Coming Here November 27

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce has promised that Santa Claus will be in town for 24 days preceding Christmas.

The Jaycee Santa Claus committee, headed by John Fissell, made the announcement today. The annual jaycee sponsored Santa Claus Parade is scheduled Nov. 27, the day after Thanksgiving.

Circleville merchants will be requested by the committee to help support the parade and "Santa's House" in Circleville.

Richard Fullen and Larry Lewis will contact N. Court St. merchants; James Schultz and Dwight Radloff S. Court St. merchants; Ernie Lindsey and Wes Edstrom, E. Main St. stores; Charles Alton and John Dougherty W. Main St. stores; and Jack McGuire the surrounding territory.

Dan Neason is in charge of Santa's house. Laurence Priest will organize the parade.

Newspaperman Dies at 82

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Will P. McKinney, 82, president of The Times Co., publisher of the Marietta Daily Times, died in his sleep early today at his home.

McKinney had been active in the affairs of the newspaper and had been at his office as usual Wednesday.

He had been a Marietta newspaperman for 66 years, starting at the age of 16 when his late father, B. J. McKinney, founded the newspaper in 1898. In 1908, he and his elder brother, Frank B. McKinney, purchased the newspaper from their father.

Will McKinney served as business manager and secretary-treasurer of the newspaper from 1908 until Frank McKinney retired in May 1962. At that time Will McKinney became president.

Born in Marietta April 24, 1882, McKinney had been long active in Masonic Lodge affairs as well as a number of other organizations.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at the First Methodist Church in Marietta, and burial will be in Marietta.

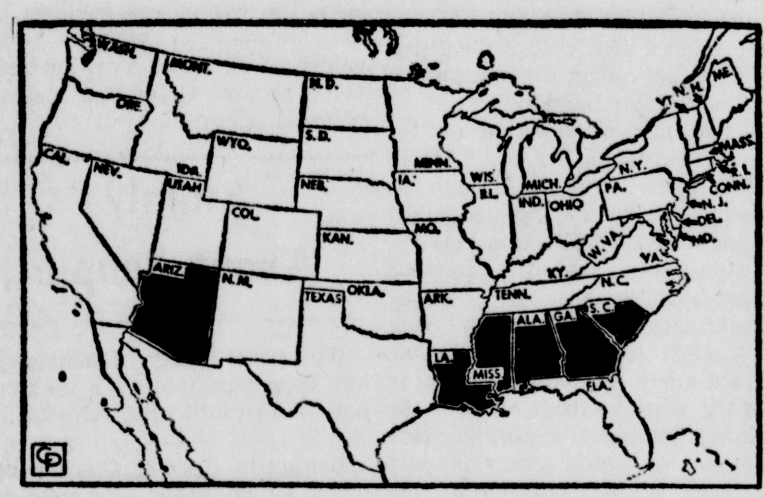

Nine Cars Derailed

LBJ Sends Ball To NATO Heads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, one of President Johnson's top diplomatic troubleshooters, will make two trips to Europe within the next four weeks — to confer with leaders on the growing crisis in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The State Department press officer disclosed in response to inquiries about Ball's plans:

1. He will attend the fourth German-American conference which meets in Berlin Nov. 12-15. This conference will discuss Atlantic alliance problems.

2. Ball will attend a Cabinet level meeting of the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development in Paris Dec. 2-3. The OECD is composed of industrial countries and works on problems of assistance to underdeveloped nations.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said, in response to questions, that Ball has "no present plans" to meet with French President Charles de Gaulle, whose independent course within NATO and in Western Europe is at the center of the present crisis of unity.

There has been speculation that President Johnson might send Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey to Europe on a troubleshooting trip but a State Department spokesman said he had "no information that would substantiate the reports."

Other consultations on the organization of NATO and its proposed nuclear weapons force will be conducted by Secretary of State Dean Rusk when he meets with Western European foreign ministers in New York in connection with the Dec. 1 opening of the U.N. General Assembly.

In mid-December, Rusk will head the U.S. delegation to a scheduled meeting of the NATO Council in Paris.

Actually the post-election period will bring talks in Washington of considerable importance to the alliance, Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak is due here next week for consultations with Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Spaak, a former secretary-general of NATO, has been one of the European leaders most actively interested in trying to find solutions for NATO's divisive problems and for the severe economic disagreement between France and West Germany within the European Common Market.

In about a month, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson plans to come here for talks with Johnson. He is anxious to find some formula for shifting Britain's nuclear weapons force to NATO and he would like to modify the U.S. plan for a NATO nuclear navy toward which the British have been cool for several years.

The key personality in the discussion which could tear NATO apart is DeGaulle.

He is threatening to drop out of the Common Market unless West Germany comes to terms quickly on a European grain price plan. He has also implied that so far as France is concerned U.S. success in carrying through the plan for a NATO nuclear navy would split NATO wide open — the implication being that France would virtually withdraw from the alliance.

Seven Killed In Bolivian Revolution

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Fighting continued in La Paz Wednesday night as militia units loyal to deposed President Victor Paz Estenssoro resisted the nation's new military regime.

Seven persons were reported killed and 50 injured as air force planes attacked buildings occupied by police and strafed militiamen on a hill near the capital. Students and workers also attacked the buildings held by tre police.

Paz, 57, who became president when a popular uprising threw out a military junta in 1952, fled with his family and aides to Peru in a Bolivian military plane.

He told newsmen in Lima his vice president, Air Force Gen. Gene Barrientos, was to blame for the coup.

"He wanted to be president so he rounded up air force and army support and overthrew me," Paz said. "I still have the support of my people."

Paz said the head of Bolivia's new military junta, Gen. Alfredo Obando Candia, "is the best of the lot. He was not mixed up with the others, but Barrientos will doubtless try to become president one way or another."

Obando is commander of Bolivia's armed forces. He told the nation the junta will hold power as briefly as possible and will hold new elections.

Paz served as president until 1956, but the constitution barred his re-election. He was elected again in 1960 and changed the constitution to permit his re-election last May. Opposition parties boycotted the election and charged that the government stuffed the ballot boxes to get the 90 per cent vote which Paz claimed.

Paz also had been beset by deepening economic troubles and militant opposition from the tin miners' union led by his former vice president, leftist Juan Lechin.

Fogle To Seek Funds for BIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Youth Commission Chairman Wayne Fogle said today the Emergency Board would be asked for funds to enable immediate repairs and replacements urgently needed at the Boys Industrial School.

He said the amount to be requested would be determined after an on-the-spot inspection of the overcrowded institution near Lancaster during the day by Youth Commissioner William Willis and several state officials and legislators.

Accompanying Willis were Board, the Capital Planning and Improvement Advisory Board and the Youth Advisory Committee.

Squeaker Senate Race Surprised Both Nominees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young, who said "the heck with it" and went to bed thinking himself a loser election night, faces a second term as U. S. Senator from Ohio.

And Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr., who held a premature "victory" celebration when it appeared he had survived the Johnson landslide and unseated Young, says he'll wait for an official canvass of the voting before deciding whether to request a recount.

Young, a 75-year-old hard-line Democrat, told friends in Washington Wednesday night that he tried unsuccessfully election night to call Taft and personally concede the election. He admitted that he's glad the call didn't get through.

At about that time, Taft was telling a news conference, "I think I've established some independence of my own," alluding to his father, the late "Mr. Republican," Sen. Robert A. Taft.

But at midday Wednesday, the lead went over to Young for good—final Network Election Service figures gave him a 13-

674-vote margin—and Taft said: "In view of the extremely close race and the surprising results in certain areas, I will await the official canvass before making any further statement or decision (on a recount request)."

The Young-Taft cliff-hanger was compounded by a combination of late Cleveland votes, almost solidly for Young, a Cleveland error that went uncorrected for a while in the wee hours. The counting error gave Taft a big unearned edge that quickly disappeared when the mistake was detected.

President Johnson carried the Buckeye State by more than a million votes, a record, but had trouble dragging fellow Democrats Young and Congress-at-large nominee Robert E. Sweeney with him. Sweeney's margin over Rep. Oliver P. Bolton in the race for the seat Taft gave up was 150,000.

Republican headaches, however, were not limited to the national big-name races.

The GOP lost three other congressional races besides Bolton's. Rep. Paul F. Schenck, of Dayton, in Congress since 1951, lost to Democrat Rodney Love. Rep. Homer (Pete) Abele lost back the House seat he won from Rep. Walter Moeller two years ago. And, in one of the most surprising upsets of the campaign, Democrat John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati, defeated one-term Carl Rich of Cincinnati one-time mayor of Cincinnati who resigned from the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court bench two years ago to make his first successful race for Congress.

The Ohio Senate also was a problem for Republicans. Shorn of their majority leader, Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, defeated quite unexpectedly in this southeastern Ohio race, Republicans face a 16-16 tie in the Senate. Organization, on a tie basis, and the selection of a clerk will be problems, but in the past one party has been allowed to choose the clerk and the other has been permitted to select the majority leader.

On the basis of unofficial returns, the Ohio House will have 75 Republicans and 62 Democrats, sufficient to give the Republicans control.

Polls Chief Denies Fraud In Balloting

CINCINNATI (AP)—John A. Wiethe, Democrat chairman of the Hamilton County Board of there were no vote frauds here and that "everything has been cleared up."

Wiethe issued a statement after Democratic national chairman John M. Bailey said he was sending special investigators to Cincinnati. Bailey said:

"We are very much concerned about the delay of the vote count in 124 precincts from Hamilton County in Ohio. With all other precincts in the state in and accounted for, this delay of a day is a matter of grave national concern."

Wiethe said that Bailey had been told 59 boxes of ballots were missing, but were later found and tabulated. The county was the last in the state to finish its vote count.

"This delay was caused by the fact that election board workers had to restock so many of the ballots," Wiethe said.

The county is using a new $1.6 million Coleman Vote Tallying System that counts ballots electronically. Before the counting can begin, the large-sized paper ballots have to be in perfect alignment. This was not the case in many instances and the ballots had to be restacked.

Once Around Roundtown

LOCAL businessmen were cautioned today to read carefully notices being received here from a "Classified Directory" firm.

The alert was sounded by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce office, along with the Better Business Bureau of Central Ohio. Officials point out that the notice is similar to a bill or invoice. They said it is a solicitation form, definitely not a bill from the telephone company.

Robert Keatly, General Telephone Co. manager here, said his firm is in no way connected with the "classified directory" service.

Better Business Bureau officials say they have been critical of this type of solicitation for many years. They suggest recipients of the form to carefully read both sides before making any check payable to the sending firm.

Newsman Dies In Wauseon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mike Desmond, 65, former Columbus newspaperman and once a Democratic candidate for the Ohio Senate, died Wednesday night of an apparent heart ailment in Detwiler Hospital, Wauseon.

His home was in Archbold, Fulton County, where he lived with his wife, Mary. For many years he was a political writer for the former Columbus Citizen and before that for the old Toledo News-Bee.

He ran an unsuccessful race for the Democratic nomination for state senator from Franklin and Pickaway counties in 1958.

Mariner 3 Launching Set

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The United States prepared today to launch Mariner 3, a robot explorer, on an intended 8½-month journey to Mars to take pictures and collect scientific data.

A powerful 10-story-tall Atlas-Agena D rocket was set to blast off between 1:22 p.m. and 3:17 p.m. to start the complex payload across 350 million miles of space for a brief encounter with the planet next July 17.

If successful, the unmanned U.S. spacecraft will sweep within 8,600 miles of Mars and provide the first closeup information ever obtained about the planet. Many astronomers believe Mars harbors a basic form of life, such as vegetation.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Mariner 3 will not be able to detect life but is to gather information needed to design life-seeking capsules which the United States hopes to land on Mars in 1969.

Because Mars is in a favorable position for a launching from earth only one month out of each 25 and because of the importance of collecting information about the planet for future shots, the space agency scheduled two identical payloads for firing in the present November favorable period.

Mariner 4 is being readied on an adjoining launch pad. Its firing date, possibly as early as next week, will be determined after analysis of early results from Mariner 3.

Policeman Shot Answering Call

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus police lieutenant was wounded critically early today by a man who police said fired at point-blank range and then escaped through a second-story window of a near North side rooming house.

Lt. Allen Fraley, 42, underwent emergency surgery for removal of a bullet fired into his stomach.

When Fraley was shot, he and Patrolmen Larry Bankert and Robert Holmes were investigating a report that a man had attempted to criminally assault a 35-year-old woman in the area. The woman said she had managed to escape from the man, who was armed with a gun.

Technology May Create New Shortage — Women

CHICAGO (AP) — A medical educator says technology may create a new shortage to mankind — women.

If infant mortality rates could be decreased, Dr. Sheldon Berger said, a shortage of women throughout the world might result.

The ironic reason, Dr. Berger said, is that the male adult is evidently less fit for survival than the female.

Dr. Berger, associate director of Evanston Hospital's Department of Research and Education, said Wednesday that his assumption is not science fiction.

He said that, generally, 106 males are born for every 100 females.

At age 30, Berger said, the ratio is evened at 100 to 100 because males generally die at an earlier age than females. After age 30, he said, the figure rapidly drops as males die and females live to an older age.

Berger said a "world shortage of marriageable females could happen tomorrow, depending on research, or take 100 years."

Vote Complaints Were Just Minor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department reports it received about 5 election complaints during Tuesday's voting. It said most were minor.

A department spokesman Wednesday called this a relatively small number, which he attributed to advance public notice by U.S. attorneys across the nation that they were standing by to handle quickly any trouble that occurred.

The complaints came from 26 states — not identified — and included broken voting machines, reported threats against poll watchers and attempts to slow down voting by Negroes.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati voters approved Tuesday an amendment to the city charter that will put firemen on an equal pay scale with policemen.

Child Welfare Board Names Exec Secretary

New executive secretary of the Pickaway County Child Welfare Board is Mrs. Margaret Barnes, Route 1, Williamsport.

Mrs. Barnes replaces Mrs. Zelma Maynard who resigned to become a social worker for the Bureau of Juvenile Placement.

A caseworker for the department for the past year, Mrs. Barnes is a graduate of Ohio State University with a degree in social administration. She has done case work at the Gladden Community House in Columbus and for two years served as a medical social worker in Puerto Rico.

Mrs. Barnes and her husband, Robert, are the parents of seven children. They live on a farm near Williamsport.

Succeeding Mrs. Barnes as caseworker under federally subsidized civil service is Mrs. Alfred Johnson, Route 2, Williamsport. A graduate of the College of Wooster, Mrs. Johnson has been a member of the Child Welfare Board since January 1963.

Completing the office force as secretary is Mrs. Keith Bidwell, Route 2, Mrs. Bidwell was graduated from Circleville High School. She was employed formerly as secretary to the superintendent of Circleville City Schools and also as secretary of the Jackson school.

Dem Victory Looks Good For Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The widened Democratic margin in Congress could brighten chances for two key Johnson administration proposals — health care for the elderly and aid to the depressed Appalachian region.

The White House is certain to read the landslide victory of President Johnson as a mandate to push harder for both measures, sidetracked in the last session.

Final returns indicate a net gain of two Senate seats for the Democrats and — more significantly — about 40 House seats.

In the 88th Congress, the Democratic Senate edge of 66 to 34 already was so big that the majority party could push through even its most controversial programs.

The proposal to provide medical care for older Americans by boosting Social Security taxes cleared the Senate by five votes.

The $1-billion Appalachian aid bill was approved by a wide margin.

But the health plan was rejected in a conference with the House and House leaders decided against bringing up the Appalachian legislation, a sure sign that they feared defeat despite a 257-173 margin.

The new congressional lineup encouraged Democrats to believe they could put through these long-disputed measures: —Creation of a Cabinet department of urban affairs or, as it has been called more recently, a department of housing and community development.

—Revision of the immigration laws to knock out the long-standing national origins quota system.

—Extension of the Wages and Hours Act to include some types of service workers long excluded.

—Establishment of some form of national standards for the unemployment compensation system.

Democratic liberals say also it now should be easier to get Congress to vote the needed funds for such programs as vocational education, mass transit, manpower retraining and depressed areas.

Many Democrats are eager to vote on a Social Security bill since beneficiaries under this program were given a commitment in the 1964 session by both branches of Congress for an increase in their payments.

The House voted a 5 per cent raise, the Senate a $7 increase in basic payments. The measure went down the drain in the dispute over the health-care plan.

Dem Victory Looks Good For Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still incomplete returns from Tuesday's election indicate that the total voter turnout fell far short of the predicted 71.1 million.

With 173,152 of 175,756 polling units counted, President Johnson had 42,038,243 votes to 26,449,960 for Sen. Barry Goldwater, a two-party total of 68,488,203.

The 2,604 precincts still unreported come mostly from sparsely settled areas, which probably have about 200 votes each.

This would mean the present totals will be swelled by about half a million votes from these 2,604 precincts, plus the minor party vote estimated at about 200,000 based on the 1960 totals.

Man's Clothing Burns; Firemen Called to Scene

The Circleville Fire Department received an unusual call today.

An employee of Pickaway Grain called shortly before noon and said: "We don't have a fire here but there is a man sitting in a car on Western Ave. and he's on fire."

The firefighters rushed to the scene where they found Fred Brungs, with his clothing smoldering. They quickly doused the burning clothes with a blast from the fire hose.

Lt. Glen Jones of the Fire Department reported Brungs was wearing two pairs of pants. This saved him from injury.

The fire apparently started from a lighted cigarette Brungs dropped on his lap. He was arrested by Circleville Police Sgt. Turney Ross for intoxication.

RFK, Teddy Trade Quips

BOSTON (AP) — For two hours the U.S. Senate's first brothers team in 161 years swapped quips and digs at a hospital bedside.

It was the day after election, and U.S. Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., hustled to New England Baptist Hospital Wednesday to exchange congratulations with his younger brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Bobby emphasized he was only visiting Boston, a joking reference to campaign charges he was a carpetbagger in New York.

Ted, who scored a lopsided election victory for a six-year term in the Senate, kidded Bobby about his smaller margin in the New York election.

Reporters waiting outside the room had trouble distinguishing which brother was talking. One newsman explained, "They both sound so much the same, it's impossible to tell."

He added, wistfully, that both sound just like their older brother, the late President John F. Kennedy. Ted now holds the Senate post once occupied by his older brother John.

During talks with newsmen, Ted said, "I think I asked Bobby if he was ruthless."

That was another reference to one of the charges made against Bobby during the New York election fight against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

"Oh, no," Bobby interjected. "He's been getting pretty fresh since he's been in the hospital. He had to have his wife campaign for him."

Ted had been hospitalized since last June when his back was broken in a plane crash. He expects to leave the hospital before Christmas.

The brothers Kennedy, when both sit in the Senate, will be the first such combination since 1803.

Theodore Foster of Rhode Island and Dwight Foster of Massachusetts served in the U.S. Senate 1800 to 1803, when they resigned.

said the election had established a "true two-party system in the South" — which the Democrats debated hotly; had won more than 26 million voters to "the conservative philosophy" and had ended the campaign "fiscally sound and strong."

Johnson, with more than 41 million votes from 98 per cent of the nation's polling places, was playing the part of the magnanimous winner. He had rolled up about 61.4 per cent of the total vote.

At his ranch near Johnson City, Tex., the President and his wife welcomed Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the vice president-elect and his wife for a brief visit before the Humphreys set off on a vacation trip to the Virgin Islands.

Johnson's observation on the election results was: "I doubt that there ever has been so many people saying so many things alike on Election Day."

Humphrey said the Johnson landslide "means good, strong leadership for the nation" that "is good for the world." Congratulatory messages poured in to the winners from all over the globe, including a pledge from the Soviet Union's new leaders to seek accommodation by negotiation.

Although Goldwater said he doesn't believe he conservative cause was hurt by the election results, there was plenty of dissent among fellow Republicans.

Moderates of the party looked to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to provide some help for them in what could become a lengthy battle to attempt to dislodge the conservative Birch and other Goldwater supporters who filled nearly every national party office.

One of Eisenhower's chief lieutenants in any such move would be Sen. Hugh Scott, who squeaked through to re-election despite Johnson's sweep of Pennsylvania. Scott had valuable experience in this field. He saved his chairmanship of the national committee by a one-vote margin after Thomas E. Dewey lost the 1948 election.

The emergence of Romney as an outstanding GOP vote getter did not necessarily mean that the moderates would rally around him in their fight to regain control of the party. The Michigan governor, a favorite of Eisenhower, did not reveal himself as a team player when the moderates tried unsuccessfully through the candidacy of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania to halt Goldwater's nomination.

Any organized opposition that developed seemed more likely to come from among Republican governors, with Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho as one likely spearhead.

On the Democratic side, Johnson appeared to own his party lock stock and barrel.

Former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the late president, hardly seemed in any position after his election to the Senate in New York to raise any challenge to the President's leadership. It seemed clear that Kennedy would not have defeated GOP Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York if Johnson hadn't carried the state by a record plurality of nearly 2.5 million.

Although Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, another brother of the late president, was re-elected in Massachusetts, there was lacking the element of any significant structural challenge to Johnson when Democratic Sen. Pierre Salinger, a potential ally, went down to defeat in California.

There was a long string of members of Congress who obviously owed their victories to Johnson's massive vote-collecting ability. These included Sen. Stephen M. Young of Ohio, who came out on top in a battle with GOP Rep. Robert Taft Jr.

While the extent of Johnson's landslide was not open to question, there remained some question about the mandate the voters had given him. The one issue the computers couldn't be programmed to answer accurately was: How many citizens voted against Goldwater instead of for Johnson?

Other prelates also advocated aid for the world's developing countries, and one layman was given a rare opportunity to address the council. He is James J. Norris, president of the International Catholic Immigration Commission, with headquarters in Geneva.

Norris, a lay auditor at the council and the third one to address the assembly since it started in 1962, reviewed the sufferings and ills caused by poverty in the world.

"A loving human family does not permit its members to suffer in this way. From this Ecumenical Council could come a clarion call for action which would involve the creation of a structure that would devise the kind of institutions, forms of cooperation and policy, which the Church can adopt to secure full Catholic participation in the worldwide attack of poverty," he told the council.

It was announced that Pope Paul VI would attend the start of the missionary debate to demonstrate the importance he attaches to the topic. It will be the first time since the start of the council, opened by Pope John XIII in October 1962, that a Pope actually will sit in on a regular working session.

Priests Ask Church Help Fight Hunger

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Prelates at the Vatican Ecumenical Council — and a layman from America — appealed today for the Roman Catholic Church to take action to fight world poverty and hunger.

The appeals included proposals for Church-organized agencies working with laymen and national governments to help rescue the poor of all races and religions from misery and neglect.

Joseph Cardinal Frings of Cologne, Germany, recommended that episcopal conferences around the world organize their own international relief agencies, supported by contributions of the faithful. These agencies would be designed to set up schools in developing nations to teach necessary skills to enable the people to help themselves.

GOP Shows Gain of One On List of Governors

WASHINGTON (AP) — About the only solace Republicans could find in Tuesday's election returns was in the 25 governorship races. There they had a net gain of one.

Particularly satisfying to the Republicans was the defeat of two Democratic governors seeking re-election, Albert Rosellini of Washington and John W. Reynolds of Wisconsin. Rosellini ran for a third term, Reynolds a second.

In addition, the Republicans took over the Massachusetts state house when former Gov. John A. Volpe staged a political comeback to defeat Lt. Gov. Francis J. Bellotti.

Democrats, in turn, won in Arizona and Utah, where the state houses had been in Republican control.

The 17 governorships won by the Democrats Tuesday gave them a total of 33 since they had 16 holdovers. The Republicans won eight of the races. They had nine holdovers, making their total 17. The pre-election lineup was 34 to 16.

Since all the races except for Arizona were in states carried by President Johnson over Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican victors in the races for governor displayed good tide-bucking ability.

Nowhere was this more clearly demonstrated than in Michigan where George Romney, who had refused to endorse Goldwater, easily defeated Rep. Neil Stabler, former Democratic national committeeman.

Utah elected a Democratic governor for the first time in 16 years when Calvin L. Rampton, Salt Lake City attorney, won over Mitchell Melich, former state legislator.

Victors included Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, close political associate of President Johnson, and losers Richard Kleindienst, who is close to Goldwater, in Arizona.

While Goldwater carried his home state of Arizona, Kleindienst lost to Democrat Sam Goddard, Tucson attorney.

In Arkansas, Republican Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, gave Gov. Orval E. Faubus something of a scare. In the end Faubus pulled through by a substantial margin to win an unprecedented sixth two-year term.

While Volpe in Massachusetts was making his successful comeback, another former Republican governor, Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia, failed in his. Underwood lost to Democrat Hulett C. Smith, state commerce commissioner.

In the Wisconsin race, Reynolds lost to former Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles.

The other unseated Democratic governor, Rosellini in Washington, lost to Daniel Jackson Evans, a state legislator.

Coleman Says Win Expected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State chairman William L. Coleman says the war and peace issue gave Democrats the campaign vehicle they needed to roll up big victories in Ohio.

"There is no question that the No. 1 issue was whether people wanted a steady man at the (nuclear) controls," Coleman said Wednesday in reference to President Johnson's landslide victory.

He added, however, that other factors were equally important, including organizational work and "Republican oversimplification" of the issues.

Coleman said he and other party leaders anticipated the outcome of most of the races.

3rd (Montgomery, Preble)—Charles W. Whalen Jr. (R-x)

5th-6th (Greene, Fayette, Clinton, Highland, Ross)—Max H. Dennis (R-x)

9th-14th-15th-16th (two-year unexpired term)—Athens, Delaware, Fairfield, Hocking, Licking, Part of Monroe, Morgan, Muskingum, part of Noble, Perry and Washington)—Charles L. Pancake (D).

10th (Franklin, Pickaway)—Richard B. Metcalf (R)

13th-31st—(Hardin, Logan, Union, Seneca, Wyandot, Crawford, Marion)—Robin T. Turner (R-x).

17th-18th-19th, 28th (Coshocton, Guernsey, Holmes, Knox, part of Monroe, Morrow, part of Noble, Tuscarawas, Wayne)—Danny Johnson (D)

21st (Stark, Carroll)—James Thorpe (R)

23rd (Mahoning, Trumbull)—Thomas P. Gilmartin (D)

25th (Cuyahoga)—John J. Corrigan (D-x), Anthony F. Novak (D), David T. Matia (D-x) plus (two-year term) Francis D. Sullivan (D-x).

27th - 29th (Lorain, Medina, Ashland, Richland)—Donald J. Pease (D)

32nd (Williams, Defiance, Allen, Paulding, Van Wert, Mercer, Auglaize)—Ross Pepple (R-x)

34th (Lucas)—Frazier Reams (D-x)

35th (Summit)—Oliver Ocasek (D-x).

In addition to the eight Republican and ten Democrats elected Tuesday, there were eight Republican and six Democrat holdovers in the Senate, meaning the Senate in the 1965 Legislature will be divided 16-16.

Barry Books Trip to Capital

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, determined to keep the Republican party on a conservative course, heads back to Washington Friday to handle some of the leftover business of the Senate seat he gave up for his losing race against President Johnson.

For the moment Goldwater's long-range future remained obscure. But the beaten Republican nominee has served notice he plans to spend a lot of time working to lead and strengthen the GOP.

In the days ahead Goldwater plans to take care of some Senate mail and some other matters in Washington, then head for a vacation with his wife at an undisclosed spot.

While more liberal members of the party made plans to rebuild the GOP in their image, Goldwater declared: "I don't think we can build a Republican party on their concepts which, in my opinion, have no difference at all with the Democratic concept."

At a concession news conference Wednesday, Goldwater said he does not think the conservative cause "has been hurt at all," despite his landslide loss.

Conservatism, he insisted, is a philosophy the Republican party "must cling to and strengthen in the years ahead."

Goldwater said he does not expect to be the nominee again in 1968, declaring his role "would be better played" in building Republican organization and raising party funds.

That is the job he did before he rose to top the Republican ticket.

Goldwater had no specific plans to offer on the shape of his drive to rebuild the beaten GOP.

Mother Killed As Sons Watch

CLEVELAND (AP) — While her two sons watched, a 30-year-old east side mother was killed by a shotgun blast fired by a neighbor with whom she argued.

Mrs. Martha Seay died Wednesday in Mount Sinai Hospital several hours after she was struck in the abdomen by the blast police said was fired by a 30-year-old man who lived nearby.

Mrs. Seay was standing on the front porch of her home with her two sons, Nathaniel Jr., 12, and Calvin, 11. The man fled in a car but was arrested a few hours later when he returned home. Homicide detectives said he is being held without charge for questioning.

'Texan' Ruled Off Shelves Of Library

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The council of Ohio State University's Student Union has taken another look at "A Texan Looks at Lyndon" and decided not to allow the book on the shelves of the union browsing library.

The book, a paperback, was donated to the library last month, along with several other titles, by the OSU Conservative Club.

But coed-librarian Gayle Waxman removed the books from the shelves saying, "If they would place these books on the shelves, then other groups would want to send their literature—and I know that Communist or Nazi literature would be refused."

The Conservative Club protested to the council, which decided that it would enforce a library rule against accepting paperbacks but take the other books back. Other titles among the 40 books originally donated were "None Dare Call it Treason," "A Choice Not an Echo," and "Witness."

Britain's Economic Problem

Harold Wilson, the head of Britain's new Labor government, has begun his regime by putting a fifteen per cent surcharge, or tax, on imports, which is a trick out of the book of the nineteenth century when all the nations were going their best to defend their home economies by "bigger my neighbor" devices.

The excuse offered by Mr. Wilson is a good one from the short term point of view. The British have been importing too much and exporting too little, which means they have had to worry about a balance of payments situation that might have ended with a disastrous gold drain and an erosion of the value of the pound. Something had to be done about it, and if the Conservative Party had remained in power it probably would have had recourse to the same sort of defensive tactics.

Even so, what has happened in England is a warning to the rest of the world that the economic health that goes with clearing the channels of international trade cannot be restored as long as we have the doctrine of Socialism to contend with. For it was the threat of a Labor Party victory that helped aggravate the British import-export crisis in the first place. Knowing that the British Socialists would take restrictive measures to solve the balance of payments problem, British businessmen started a few months ago to stock up on imports. They thus compounded the problem, bringing on the equivalent of the sort of crisis that comes when factories become overstocked on inventory. Too much money going out, not enough coming in.

The reassuring word from London to Washington is that the British tax on imports is "temporary." The Labor government proposes to give tax incentives to home manufacturers in hopes that they will modernize their plants to the point where they can undersell their competitors in world markets and so bring the import-export situation into a natural balance. The trouble with this idea, however, is that no government with commitments to socialist ideology is in a good position to help an economy renovate itself. Why should a British steel manufacturing company invest in new and efficient melting or rolling equipment when it is under the threat of being nationalized? And why should any business concern be moved to enthusiasm when an orthodox leftist from the Transport and General Workers Union, Frank Cousins, who has no love for automation, is put in charge of a Ministry of Technology? Or when a novelist, C. P. Snow, is made Cousins' assistant? True enough, Snow, a physicist, knows something about science in the abstract, but the adaptation of science to business is something that demands a special type of approach, one that blends engineering, market research and cost accounting in a way that government bureaucrats never seem to understand.

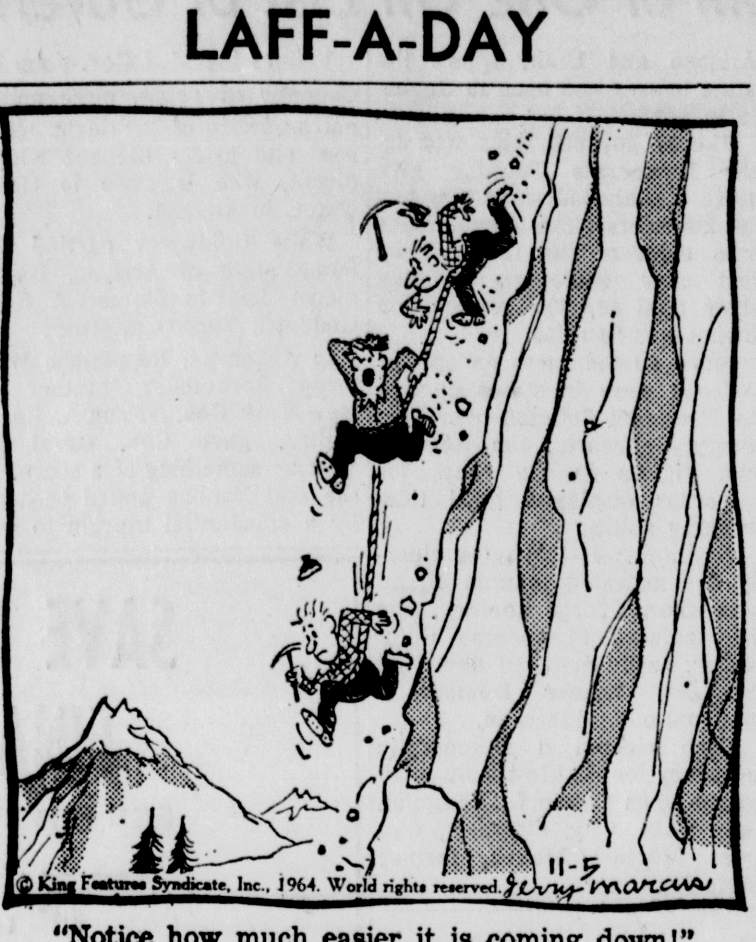

By John Chamberlain

Cousins has been quoted as saying that it will be difficult to "bring science into industry. Because this is such a brand new thing." Such a statement reflects an almost abysmal ignorance of history. The whole history of the Industrial Revolution, from the invention of the steam engine on down, has been a matter of bringing science into industry.

What is most depressing about the "temporary" British import tax is that it seems to confirm a growing world trend toward economic nationalism. In France, de Gaulle is threatening to pull his country out of the European Common Market if he can't get satisfaction on general European agricultural policy. In the United States, there is a tax on the export of capital. The so-called "Kennedy round" of reciprocal tariff cutting, called for under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, has not been coming along as expected.

Knowing the difficulties under which the British are laboring, the rest of the world may be disposed to forebearance. "Our partners will understand," said George Brown, who is second to Harold Wilson in the Labor Party hierarchy. But the Irish, so it appears from a statement by J. J. Stacey, the director-general of the Federation of Irish Industry, don't feel very happy about "understanding." Says Mr. Stacey, "This is a disaster for Irish industry. Many of our exports could not get into Britain against this surcharge."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

During a siege of hepatitis, I was told that my spleen and my liver were enlarged. The spleen is talked about in such vague terms that I thought your readers would be interested, as I am, in knowing more about it. What is the spleen? What does it do? Can a person live if it is removed?

MR. K.R.T., Oklahoma

Dear Mr. T: The spleen is truly one of the most remarkable organs of the body. It has so many functions that it can be well said that it plays an important role in every aspect of health and disease.

The spleen is a large organ and lies in the upper left part of the abdomen. Blood formation is attributed to the spleen, especially during the fetal stage of development. In addition to producing red blood cells, other vital blood elements called lymphocytes are manufactured in the spleen.

Strangely, the spleen also destroys "old" red blood cells that have performed their function and are no longer needed.

It is also said that the spleen acts as a storehouse for healthy red blood cells, to be released as they are required.

Some body defense mechanisms against infection are known to reside in this complex organ.

It is thought that the spleen has some control over the formation of healthy blood cells in the bone marrow, where they are also manufactured.

A person can live if the spleen is removed because other organs in the body take over its important functions. This is a safety device typical of the many wonders of the body.

New and important functions of the spleen are constantly being discovered. It is truly a remarkable organ.

At the present time, I am having a series of blood tests to see if I have Addison's disease. If it turns out that I have it, I'd like to know what it is and how serious it is.

Mrs. R.H. Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. H: There are a number of aspects of your question that are of particular importance in the understanding of disease, tests and the relationship between patients and doctors.

Tests are performed to accumulate information that will help the doctor come to a conclusion. An X-ray of the chest is not necessarily taken "for tuberculosis." Rather, an X-ray of the chest is taken for whatever information it can add to the doctor's knowledge of a patient.

It is therefore unnecessary to worry about a disease before a positive diagnosis is made.

Despite the fact that the condition is unproven in your case, your curiosity deserves to be satisfied.

Addison's disease affects the adrenal gland, one of the most important hormone secreting glands in the body. There is an

Can You Remember When—

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the golden key.

It unlocks the door to the past and enables you to step from a harried today back to a more leisurely yesterday. It gives life a growing spaciousness.

You've got a lot to look back upon if you can remember when—

The greatest traffic hazard was a runaway horse, or a couple of young bloods racing rented buggies late on a Saturday night.

A daredevil was a fellow who was willing to go up in a balloon.

You could always tell a sport. He wore pointed, bright tan shoes — and they always were polished.

The racy conversation in the town barbershop immediately turned to a discussion of the weather when the leading banker entered for a haircut.

You could win a reputation as a wit by saying things like, "Everybody makes mistakes — that's why they put erasers on pencils."

The best way to find out what was going on in the community was to go sit on the courthouse steps and listen to the loafers.

The local Western Union telegrapher and the phone operator knew more juicy secrets than even the doctor.

On Sundays a small boy knew he'd probably be bawled out for only one thing — squirming in church.

Everybody wanted to belong to the white collar class, because they were supposed to make more money.

In an emergency it was possible to call either a physician or a plumber and get him to come to your house that same day.

The average drugstore sold more liver pills than it did aspirin tablets.

Only retired farmers and Civil War veterans wore beards.

Nobody knew what the new styles for next year would be until the mail order catalogs arrived.

A good carpenter could earn as much in a week then as he does in a day now.

In a city restaurant if you ate your peas with a knife, they pretty well knew you came from the country.

Many people lived their whole lives through and never learned how to write a check. If they didn't have the cash to pay for it, they did without it.

In large families every child's dream of glory was to get a suit or a dress that hadn't been worn by someone else.

You were safer from street robbery with $50 in your pocket than you are with $2 now.

Those were the days.

Money Flows Plentifully In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—This is a town that can't stop making money.

Every year it's the same story. When the books are balanced, there's always money left over.

They try to spend it. Every budget is bigger. There are expensive projects to try to solve the water shortage, and thousands of apartments to try to solve the housing shortage.

But more money always comes in than goes out, and at the end of the year there's that surplus again.

It's an interesting problem. No other city seems to have it. But then there is no other place like Hong Kong.

First of all, it shouldn't even be here.

The British got the island with a bit of gunboat diplomacy — the standard practice in those days — about 120 years ago. Since then, a little bit of the China mainland has been added.

The government of China, of course, is Communist and its chiefs are the terrible-tempered Mr. Bang and Mr. Coffee Nerves of international politics.

It's a wonder they haven't taken the place back long since. Instead, they've become the largest investors in Hong Kong, pushing the British back to second place.

"I'll have my money back in 11 years," said one British investor, "the Chinese Communists willing."

And if they aren't?

"Then I'm wiped out."

But people are pouring money into huge, substantial office buildings, factories, warehouses, homes, hotels, stores.

Already crammed to the bursting point with Chinese fleeing the harsh and humorless regime at home, Hong Kong decided to go into business on its own, mostly textiles.

Then the tourists discovered the free port, where products from everywhere were on sale at prices cheaper than in the places where they were made. When jet planes came, Hong Kong was the first city in the area to build runways for them.

Now tourists swarm in at a rate of half a million a year.

By Mrs. Ray Poling

Mrs. Frank White and Mrs. Hugh Poling conducted a Halloween party Wednesday evening at the church. David Stump was judged as the funniest, Mike DeLong was the ugliest and Jane Ann Good as the prettiest. Refreshments were served. Others present were Jim White, Michael Poling, Dennis Karshner, Russell White, Richard McCabe, Bobby Bowers and Michael Rose.

Mrs. Melvin Mettler and Mrs. Goldie Byers returned home Friday after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Satterfield and family of Connecticut.

Mrs. Laura Heffner of Circleville and Miss Dora Armstrong were Friday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stahr and son of Columbus were Sunday afternoon guests of Miss Florence Stahr.

Miss Judith Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Allen of Chillicothe, has been awarded the 1964 March of Dimes Health Career Award of $500. A 1964 graduate of Chillicothe High School and valedictorian of her class, Miss Allen is attending Ohio State University and plans to use her award toward a nursing career.

Announcement of the award was made by Mrs. H. Robert Albrecht, chairman of the Ross Co. Chapter of the National Foundation March of Dimes. The chapter will offer the award each year to senior high school students who are planning a career in Nursing, Occupational therapy of physical therapy.

Miss Allen is the granddaughter of Mrs. Lessel Allen of Laurelville.

Mrs. Marion Kempton of Laurelville and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Edmiston of Whisler spent last weekend with Pvt. Teddy V. Kempton at Fort Benning, Ga. Teddy is the son of Mrs. Kempton and the grandson of Mrs. Edmiston. The folks returned home Monday by way of the Smoky Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Karshner of Florida have been visiting Ohio relatives for two weeks.

Mrs. Herman Myer (Myrtle DeHaven) of near Leipsic suffered a stroke two weeks ago.

She is a patient in St. Rita's Hospital, Lima. Mrs. John Spencer visited Mrs. Myer, who is her aunt, last Sunday.

Mrs. Ola Jinks received word two weeks ago of the death of her youngest brother, Clint Harvey of Tampa, Fla. The death of Mr. Harvey leaves Mrs. Jinks the only survivor of eight brothers and sisters.

Anita Rae, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dean, underwent a tonsillectomy at Berger Hospital last Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Bowers of Tipp City was the weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bowers.

The Junior Class play at Laurelville High School "Here Comes Charley" will be presented Nov. 20 starting at 7:30 p. m. in the Laurelville Gym. Tickets may be purchased from members of the Junior Class.

Spicy Marinade Adds Flavor To Many Foods

By ALICE DENHOFF

Marinating foods in a well-spiced marinade achieves two results.

First, it tenderizes meats that need it and second, the oil-acid combination carries the spicy flavor into the food, giving it new, exquisite flavor.

It's easy enough to marinate foods, but there are a few rules.

Remember both whole and ground spices can be used. Ground pepper, cloves mustard etc., should be used in a marinade that isn't cooked. Whole spices may be used in one which is heated long enough to release flavors.

GRILLED MARINATED CHICKEN

1 1/4 tsp. salt
instant onion powder
1/2 tsp. each crumbled whole sage leaves and poultry seasoning

3/4 tsp. each black pepper and instant garlic powder
2 tsp. prepared mustard
2 tbs. cider vinegar
1/4 c. salad oil

2 1/2 to 3 lb. broiler-fryer chicken
Combine all ingredients except chicken.

Cut chicken in serving-size pieces. Add to marinade. Marinate 4 to 5 hrs. or overnight in refrigerator.

Broil slowly over charcoal fire, basting with marinade as often as chicken looks dry. Turn to brown both sides.

Approximately 4 servings.
SPICED VEGETABLES WITH KEBABS

1 can (10 oz.) beef bouillon
1 1/2 tbs. fresh lemon juice
2 tbs. cider vinegar
2 tbs. each salt and ground thyme

1/2 tsp. ground black pepper
1 tbs. mixed pickling spice
2 lbs. lean lamb (leg of lamb)
6 squares green pepper, 1 1/2 inches each

6 slices Zucchini squash, sliced 1/2 in. thick
6 wedges fresh tomato

Combine first 5 ingredients in saucepan. Tie mixed pickling spice in cheesecloth bag and add. Bring to boiling point. Boil 2 minutes. Cool.

Cut lamb into 1 1/2 in. cubes. Add to marinade, cover and let stand in refrigerator overnight or for 6 to 8 hours.

String on skewers alternating with green pepper and squash. Cook over charcoal fire 15 to 25 min. or until done, basting with marinade as often as meat and vegetables look dry.

Add tomato wedges during the last half of the cooking period. This prevents over-cooking them.

Serve between halved split frankfurter rolls or wedges of French bread cut to fit the kebabs.

Serves 6.
MARINATED SNAP BEAN SALAD

1 lb. fresh snap beans
1 in. boiling water
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. sugar

1/4 c. olive or salad oil
1 1/2 tbs. red wine vinegar
1 tsp. salt

1-16 tsp. black pepper
1/2 tsp. basil leaves
1/4 tsp. sugar
Dash instant garlic powder
Salad greens

1/4 c. grated Parmesan cheese
3 large hard-cooked eggs

Wash beans and remove tips, but leave beans whole. Place in saucepan with the boiling water and tsp. salt, also 1/2 tsp. sugar. Bring to boiling point and cook, covered, 5 min. Keep covered and continue cooking 7 to 8 min. or until beans are crisp-tender. Drain and cool. Chill.

Combine oil, vinegar, salt, black pepper, basil the remaining 1/4 tsp. sugar and garlic. Beat with rotary beater. Pour over beans marinate 1 hr. in refrigerator. Serve on salad greens, sprinkled with 1 tbs. grated Parmesan cheese. Garnish with sliced hardcooked eggs. Serves 6.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Tale's End for Sweetheart

DEAR ABBY: We were high school sweethearts, but he went away to college and then married an out-of-town girl. In the meantime, I married someone else, too. After many dull years, I filed for divorce. I had no children, thank heavens. Fate brought him back to visit his parents this summer, and it was just like old times. He is more handsome than ever. He had his two teen-aged sons with him and I loved them immediately. There was nothing out of the way—just good, clean fun. Besides, we were with our parents most of the time. He told me he wasn't happy with his wife, but will not divorce her because of the boys. When they went home, the boys started to correspond with me, but their mother put a stop to it. How narrow-minded can you get? Don't you think children have a right to choose their own friends? How can I set her straight?

SWEETHEART
DEAR SWEETHEART: You can't "set her straight" so don't try. She considers you a threat, with good reason. This is not simply a matter of children "choosing their own friends." If you "love" the boys, and it was actually all "just good, clean fun," write him the chapter and close the book.

DEAR ABBY: I have a weak muscle (or nerve) in one eye and it makes me look cross-eyed. A local eye doctor said it was too slight to correct surgically for cosmetic reasons, but it is driving me out of my mind, Abby. I can't look at anybody any more. When I ask my family how bad they think it is, they say they don't even notice it. But I know they just don't want to tell me the truth because they are afraid of hurting my feelings. Maybe they can't notice it, but when a small child asks you WHO you are looking at when you are looking directly at HIM, something must be wrong. How can I get the truth?

NEEDS TO KNOW
DEAR NEEDS: Ask a few people on whom you can rely to tell you the truth. Then go to another doctor and ask him. Even though the eye is only slightly off, if it bothers you excessively, perhaps surgery should be performed for your peace of mind, which is every

LBJ, Hubert Hold Huddle

Election Victors Lounge on Ranch

By FRANK CORMIER

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and Hubert H. Humphrey, his vice president-to-be, hit it off in fine fashion as they wound up a Texas hill country huddle today.

Lounging around the LBJ Ranch 15 miles west of this hamlet founded by the President's grandfather, the nation's two top Democrats celebrated Tuesday's landslide victory.

They looked much like peas in a pod as they hiked around the 400 presidential acres and rode horses in Western garb.

Humphrey, a one-time drug-gist, looked anything but that as he moseyed around the ranch on a horse which, from all appearances, was tame and well behaved.

The President greeted Humphrey and wife Muriel with an elaborate Texas barbecue Wednesday.

Hardly had the Minnesotan landed on the LBJ property when he was clapped into Western pants, Western jacket, Western boots and Western hat and, with a mite of encouragement, enticed to climb aboard the horse.

All this coincided with the barbecue served buffet-style at folding tables set up in a metal hangar, painted brass green, beside the taxi strip at the Johnson City municipal airport — the ranch runway.

Afterwards, Johnson took Humphrey in tow for a tour of his birthplace, reconstructed on the property, and other landmarks which he delights in showing to visitors.

Both were in a holiday mood and obviously enjoying their visit.

Privately, they talked about the future of the vice presidency — an office often scorned — and looked ahead to the legislative program the Johnson-Humphrey administration will offer to the nation in January.

News Briefs

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater dashed off a wry family joke Wednesday about his loss to President Johnson.

Goldwater drove to Scottsdale, near his home, to buy some paintings. One was a Mark Coomer painting of a clown weeping.

He bought it for his daughter Peggy, saying she likes clowns. He put this card with it: "I voted for Barry."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The two Ohioans most concerned with their parties' fortunes in Tuesday's election saw their home counties go into the opposite column in the presidential voting.

In Summit County, home of Republican state chairman Ray Bliss, President Johnson won by 73,900 votes, while Union County home of Democratic chairman William Coleman, went to Barry Goldwater by 61 votes.

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Congolese army headquarters in Elisabethville today reported government troops have recaptured Kibombo, an important rebel stronghold in the Maniema district, 80 miles south of Kindu.

LONDON (AP) — Britain's new Labor government has banned construction of new office buildings in London, saying too many have already been built in the city without enough housing for office workers.

LUCKY DRIVER — Edwin Hart, 445 W. High St., fortunately escaped injury today when his car brushed a highway department crane. The auto overturned. The driver of the crane, John Guider, Columbus, will be cited into Circleville Municipal Court for changing lanes without caution. Checking the damaged car is Ovid Clark, safety inspector for Division 6 of the State Highway Department. The accident occurred on Route 23 two miles north of Circleville.

Young Long Given Credit For Charmed Political Life

CLEVELAND (AP) — Even before Tuesday's election, some observers were saying U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young seems to be leading a charmed life, politically speaking.

In 1958 he upset John W. Bricker, the Republican incumbent who was one of the state's greatest vote-getters. Young was given little chance to win. He had been out of the political limelight for several years.

But 1958 was the year of the right - to work issue, and a great surge of Democratic votes was registered as a protest against Republican sponsorship of the issue. Young defeated Bricker by 153,000 votes.

Last spring the 75-year-old Young was pitted against astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. in the Democratic primary. Glenn had a lot of things going for him, including the support of many state party leaders.

But Col. Glenn was sidelined by an ear injury suffered in a fall at his hotel. He withdrew without striking a blow in the primary race.

That left the peppery junior senator facing Rep. Robert Taft Jr. in the general election.

Taft had a lot of things going for him, too, like one of those magic names in Ohio politics. Robert Taft's grandfather was President William Howard Taft, and his late father, Sen. Robert A. Taft, was "Mr. Republican" in a state heavy with GOP voters.

But Taft failed to breast the Democratic tide of President Johnson's national landslide. Young squeezed through.

He went to bed election night thinking he had lost. He left town the next morning without checking the returns. "I'll find out later," he said.

He learned the final outcome while driving to Washington. He called his aides from the Pennsylvania Turnpike and got the new figures.

"It feels good," he said. "I'm now cautiously optimistic." By the time he reached Washington it was certain.

During the campaign Young refused to concede that his 75 years put him at a disadvantage against his 47-year-old opponent. "I'm not as Young as I used to be," he said, "but not as old as I expect to get."

Young has been in politics since 1912, when he came out of law school and won a seat in the Ohio General Assembly. He was elected Ohio congressman-at-large in 1932, 1934, 1940 and 1948.

He served in both world wars and won the bronze star at Anzio beachhead in Italy, later becoming military governor of the Province of Reggio, Emilia, Italy. His first wife, Ruby, died in 1952, and he married his present wife, Rachel, in 1957.

Young has a zest for life, plays golf and tennis, swims every day and likes to walk. He claims a near-perfect attendance and voting record in the Senate.

British-American Clinic Helps Starving Peru Boy

LIMA, Peru (AP) — His name is Victor, and he's 7 months old. Four weeks ago, he seemed to be dying of starvation in a sprawling Lima slum, his parents too poor to feed him properly.

Victor's father is 22, a frail odd-jobs man usually out of work. His mother is 36. Both are illiterate. Victor is her 12th child — eight by a previous common-law husband and four by Victor's father. She is expecting her 13th.

7 Appellate Judges Win Re-Election

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Seven incumbent appellate court judges in Ohio's 10 districts won re-election in Tuesday's general election, complete but unofficial returns show.

Defeated were incumbent Judge Clyde M. Deeds, Toledo Republican, by Clifford S. Brown a Democrat and Huron County judge; incumbent James G. France, Youngstown Democrat, by Republican Nils P. Johnson, a Democrat and incumbent George M. Jones by Democrat John J. Lynch of Youngstown.

Both France and Jones were Judges in the 7th District, Youngstown, and Judge Deeds served in the 6th District, Toledo

Here are the results from the state's other districts:

1st — Republican incumbent C. Watson Hover, Cincinnati, defeated Robert G. Ray, Democrat, of Warren County.

2nd — Incumbent Democrat Joseph D. Kerns of Dayton was unopposed.

3rd — Republican incumbent George S. Middleton of Bellefontaine defeated John D. Harnishfeger, Lima Democrat.

4th — Republican Gordon B. Gray of Athens defeated Democrat Warren S. Earhart.

5th — Incumbent Republican Paul D. Van Nostrand of Canton defeated Democrat James J. Mayer, Richland County.

7th — Democrat John J. Lynch of Youngstown defeated incumbent Republican George M. Jones for the full six-year term. Republican Nils P. Johnson, Youngstown, defeated incumbent Democrat James G. France the unexpired term ending Feb. 8, 1967.

8th — Incumbent Republican Lee E. Skeel of Cleveland was unopposed.

Unopposed for the unexpired term ending Feb. 8, 1967 was Republican Daniel H. Wasserman of Cleveland.

9th — Incumbent Democrat Oscar Hunsicker of Akron was unopposed.

10th — Incumbent Democrat John C. Duffy of Columbus defeated Republican William W. Holmes of Columbus.

Saw Causes Injury

Charles Rott, 53, of 379 Walnut St., received emergency aid in Berger Hospital yesterday after he lacerated his left forearm in a chain saw. He was released following treatment.

ter, no toilet, and practically no food.

Hollow-eyed and spindlegged, Victor was brought to the British-American Hospital Research Department, where he was nursed back to health.

Now two pounds heavier, he is a happy, almost normal baby. An unusual case — a baby starving to death in Peru?

Not at all. Statistics show 100 babies die every 24 hours of starvation in this South American country. Victor was one of the lucky ones.

Babies who survive starvation diets grow up mental and physical runts.

Most of the babies born in Peru grow up without tasting cow's milk.

A quart of milk costs less than 14 cents here, but the masses who make up the bulk of Peru's 11 million inhabitants cannot afford it.

Babies like Victor, from the slums, are treated and studied. Because of limited facilities only a scant handful of the worst cases are admitted to the hospital.

Dr. George G. Graham, a Johns Hopkins-trained pediatrician and the director of the Research Department, said:

"A solution is a food costing practically nothing that needy families can feed their babies in place of the milk they cannot provide. Once a child is of school age the problem of nutrition is not so critical.

"One of the semisolid foods we give babies here is extremely fine noodles enriched with fish flour. There are others, but because Peru is one of the world's biggest producers of fish meal we are especially interested in this one."

President Fernando Belaunde Terry has ordered his ministers of agriculture and public health to explore the possibilities.

Many Localized Issues Get Verdict from Voter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Voters in the city of Marion have defeated a proposal for daylight saving time by a wide margin. Needing a bare majority for passage, the citizens downed proposed by a vote of 9,281 against to 4,959 for.

It was one of many scores of special issues voted upon by Ohioans in Tuesday's heavy balloting.

In another issue in Marion, citizens defeated a $6 million bond issue proposal for storm sewers.

In Springfield, voters approved a tax levy for construction and operation of a vocational school but rejected a flouridation ordinance for the city. The vocational school proposal needing a simple majority for passage, and calling for a levy of 1 mill for five years, was approved 18,680 to 18,441. The flouridation ordinance was downed by a vote of 14,106 against, 7,347 for.

In Franklin County, voters defeated only one of 10 proposed levies, bond issues and referendum proposals. The defeat came for an urban renewal bond issue which needed 55 per cent margin of approval. It got 70,292 votes for and 64,242 against—not enough for approval.

Other issues approved in Columbus and Franklin County included a half-mill levy for welfare; a $15 million bond issue for a new hospital and other hospital facilities; a gas rate referendum providing for a decrease in rates to customers of Columbus Gas of Ohio, a $34.6 million bond issue to provide new schools, and a series of public works bond issues to be paid for from income tax dollars.

Kenton voters defeated both a renewal and an additional school levy totaling 20.7 mills.

Also defeated in Hardin County was the proposed merger of the Alger, McGuffey and Ada schools.

Mount Vernon voters defeated three local issues: Charter home rule-city manager, a $4.2 million school bond issue, and an 8.4 mills levy for school purposes.

In Butler County voters approved a $7 million school bond issue at Middletown but turned down a $5 million issue for sewer construction in Fairfield.

Cleveland's $10 million urban renewal bond issue appeared to be headed for passage on the basis of incomplete returns. With 900 of the city's 1,182 polling places reporting, the vote stood at 106,488 favoring the

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wholly new President Johnson — new to himself and everyone else, here and abroad — will have to develop now that he has been elected to the White House on his own for a full four years.

This is in handling foreign affairs, a field where his experience has been very limited until now. It's a reasonable guess he will try to perform here as he did on the American political scene so long.

It can be simply stated: try to get all you want but compromise if necessary to make some progress.

As vice president, he was never more than a shadow, a good-will ambassador, of President John F. Kennedy who ran foreign affairs with a strong hand of his own.

After he became President and until now, Johnson made no overseas trips. For one thing, there was no vice president if anything happened to him.

For another, he apparently felt he had a fulltime job establishing himself at home and trying to get his programs through Congress. He did so well it was his success here that laid the base for his presidential campaign.

As President he had foreign problems to deal with, but from within the White House, and never as a first-hand participant in solving them on the scene, as might be done through conferences.

He'll still have to worry about his programs in Congress, but the Democrats are even stronger there as a result of the elections. There will now be a vice president, just in case, and the foreign field can't be pushed aside longer.

One of the first moves, probably, will be visiting foreign leaders, perhaps taking part in some kind of conference on the NATO alliance which is getting shakier, and perhaps summit talks with the Russians.

This will be the first time in this generation, at least, that the foreign leaders ever met any president like Johnson, for whom success and approval by the public are a necessary part of his daily diet.

Since he has a great sense of the spectacular he can be expected to seek some sensational early triumph that he can point to. Over the long run he will probably try to do in foreign affairs what he did with Congress and politicians.

This means getting something done.

In short, in each instance he will seek some measure of success, compromising where he has to instead of insisting upon having everything his own way.

After beating Sen. Barry Goldwater in Tuesday's election Johnson said he accepts his victory as a "mandate for unity." He was talking about trying to unify the divided forces at home.

It is hardly an accident he mentioned unity. For him it means trying to bring divergent forces together. It's the way he operates.

It will not be surprising if out of his visits abroad comes some progress in problems which have been standing still. He may accomplish far more than Kennedy.

While Johnson needs constant reassurance through approval — domestically he got all one man needs in the election returns — it is natural he will raise his sights and seek international approval with his conduct of foreign affairs.

He is an expert negotiator but he still has to demonstrate how tough he is in a fierce international crisis. He has never been in one, although he may have given an insight with his action in Southeast Asia.

After American ships were fired on in the Gulf of Tonkin he approved bombing North Vietnamese bases.

One of the fascinating spectacles of the decade will be watching Johnson — if he has to deal face to face with President Charles de Gaulle — try to get the obstinate Frenchman to change his mind on anything.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — YU 3-5731

The Kiwanis Club celebrated its third anniversary last week with ladies night being observed.

The meeting was held at the Methodist Church. Guests for the evening were Lt. Governor and Mrs. Ed. Gearhart, Mr. and Mrs. John Little, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hickman, Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Hopper and Judge William Ammer of the Circleville Club.

The club still has 22 charter members that are active. Nine of these men have perfect attendance for three years. They are Warren Bastian, S. E. Duvall, R. E. Fotheringham, Bill Fortner, Howard Hosler, Benis Lutz, Claude Kraft, Charles Morrison and Donald Collins.

Those achieving one year perfect attendance were Don Forquer, Dorwin Hay, Steve Cook, Gene Vonins, Don Courtwright and Don Hedges. The attendance awards were presented by Lt. Governor Gearhart.

Don Courtwright, Gene Vonins and S. E. Duvall received the badge of distinction award for sponsoring a new member.

Plas are now being made by the club for its annual newspaper sale.

John Ridenour, a student at Muskingum College, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Ridenour.

Dr. and Mrs. William Dorgan of New Market, Va., and Mrs. Ormand Demorest of Winchester, Va., were recent weekend guests of Miss Nelle Oesterle.

Mrs. Mildred Messick spent the weekend with her son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Messick and Mike, Patricia, Molly and George of Upper Arlington.

Richy Cremeans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cremeans, returned to school this week for the first time since he was injured in a car and bicycle accident Sept. 13. He still has his leg in a cast and will be on crutches until March.

The District No. 2 Convention of the Pythian Sisters was held at the Amanda Temple Oct. 29 with 135 attending.

District Deputy Hazel Thomas presided during the afternoon and evening sessions. Distinguished guests were grand chief Merrill Adams, grand manager Beth Davis, grand manager Mary McDaniels, grand outer guard Agnes Woodward, grand trustees Evelyn Zwyer and Jean Keller and past grand chief Francis Peters.

The degree staffs of Mount Sterling and Ashville Temple assisted in the initiatory work and the degree staff of Amanda Temple presented a fancy drill work at the evening session.

Those from Ashville Temple taking part in the initiatory work were Gladys Rush, most excellent chief; Caroline Pritchard, excellent senior; and Jill Roese, past chief. Those in the degree staff were Helen Irwin, Mona Morrison, Marilyn Sabine, Dorothy Cook, Helen Kuhlwein, Pearl Fortner, Caroline Pritchard, Janet McNeal, Betty Smith, Rebecca Tosca, Sonja Seymour, Eveline Zwyer, Madge Baum, Francine Peters, Elaine Winter and Captain Billie Campbell, with Kate Lemon as pianist.

The dinner in the evening was served at the Amanda Methodist Church. The convention will be held in Circleville next year.

Nancy Petty, Sherrie Kitchen, Martha Courtright and Paul Bastian, students at Ohio University at Athens, spent the weekend with their parents.

The Teays Valley Booster Club met at the High School Monday evening for its monthly meeting. President Marvin Hicks presided during the business meeting.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Kunke and the treasurer, Mrs. Vause, gave her report. She told that a profit of $555.99 was made at the food booth during the Pumpkin Show.

A note of thanks was read from the Westfall Booster Club for the use of the football field.

Final plans were made for the Football Banquet to be held in the school cafeteria Nov. 7. A carry-in dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m.

Each family is asked to bring a basket which includes a meat dish, Rolls, coffee, milk as well as the table service will be furnished. The public is invited.

A Jerry Raser dance will be held following the banquet. This will be open to the public. Admission will be charged those who do not have a Booster membership card.

It was announced that the club will sponsor a card party at the Ashville Elementary School Nov. 28. The next meeting will be Dec. 7.

Jim Beatty, a freshman at Ohio State, visited for the weekend with his mother and brother, Mrs. Arthur Beatty and Jeff.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Deal Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Purcell attended the open house and design school sponsored by the Walter J. Engel Co., on Nov. 1. The Engel Co. is a wholesale florist distributor.

The design school consisted of instruction of Christmas designs and arrangements. Mr. William Cronin of Indianapolis was the commentator.

Other designers were Rachel Storey, Huntington, W. Va.; Harold Kaufman, Lancaster; Marjorie Taxter, Worthington; and Melvin Honeycutt, Columbus.

Comedian Ken Murray To Lecture at College

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Ken Murray, who barely won a diploma from the Kings-ton, N.Y., High School before matriculating in vaudeville, will be lecturing at UCLA Saturday night.

It's possible that he will be the most entertaining lecturer at the university this semester, because Ken is also bringing along the movies he has been taking of Hollywood stars for the past 37 years.

The films comprise a rich history of the faces and fashions of Hollywood's Golden Era. But Ken's lecture won't be stuffily historical. It will mark a return to comedy for him.

"Van Heflin told me something that is absolutely true," said Murray. "You should always go back to your basic business. Mine is comedy. I had gotten away from comedy in recent years. I produced television specials. I did character roles."

"From now on I'm not going to produce anything unless it's for myself. And I'm going to do everything I can to make it funny."

He started taking movies in 1927 when he landed in town as a brash young vaudeville comic.

Case No. 24028
Pauline Love, Plaintiff
vs.
Warren H. Love, Defendant.

Warren H. Love, whose last known address is 312 Jefferson Street, Port Orange, Florida, will take notice that on Sept. 21, 1964, Pauline Love filed a petition in the Common Pleas Court of Pickaway County, Ohio, in Case No. 24028 against him as defendant praying for a divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty and further praying for a divorce from defendant, temporary and permanent custody of Victor Allen Love, the minor child of the parties, temporary and permanent support money, expense money and an equitable disposition of the real estate jointly owned by the parties and known as 312 Jefferson Street, Port Orange, Florida, and for such other and further relief to which plaintiff may be entitled in the premises.

Notice is hereby given that said non-resident defendant, that said action is pending against him and that he is required to appear and answer thereto at the Court House in Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio, within a period of six weeks from the first publication, to-wit: Oct. 1, 1964, or such petition will be taken as true and judgment rendered accordingly.

Attorneys for Plaintiff
Oct. 1, 8, 15, 22, 29, Nov. 5, 1964.

He continued through the years he was starring in films, radio, television and his 7 1/2-year run in "Blackouts" on Vine Street.

With customary thoroughness, Murray is testing his new attraction in every possible medium. He had a premiere showing here at the Lindy Opera House. A large crowd appeared — but not Ken's agent. "He told me the show would never go over, so I fired him the next day," said Murray.

Now he feels brave enough to tackle Broadway. He will open April 26 in New York under the auspices of Alexander Cohn's Nine O'Clock Theater, which has also presented Victor Borge, Nichols and May, "Beyond the Fringe," etc.

NCAA Levels New Penalties

NEW YORK (AP) — The NCAA has barred Miami of Florida from participation in its annual post-season basketball tournament and slapped Michigan State and Navy with probationary sentences for recruiting violations.

The steps were taken Wednesday by the NCAA's 18-man policy-making council, which at the same time fired the first salvo in renewing the battle with the Amateur Athletic Union over the right to sanction track and field competitions.

Four member schools — Western State of Colorado also was involved — were penalized by the NCAA for "excessive financial aid and recruiting violations," but only Miami was barred from post-season activity.

The ruling, which places Miami on probation for one year and bans the school from the NCAA basketball tournament as well as other major post-season affairs cooperating with the NCAA, came about because of an incident last year.

The council said a representative of "Miami's athletic interests" gave a basketball player free room and board and paid for his air travel for several trips made in 1963.

Miami President Henry King Stanford said the violation was unintentional but the school respects the decision and will abide by it.

Michigan State was placed on probation for three years but additional sanctions were suspended because the school corrected the violations after the 1958-59 college year.

Navy received a one-year probation with no additional penalties.

Neither the Spartans nor the Middles is banned from post-season activity under the ruling.

Western State was reprimanded and censured because it gave a wrestler a grant of tuition and fees after he already had a job.

Daytona University was restored to full rights and privileges after completing two years on probation for a basketball recruiting violation.

When the Council finished handing out penalties, it turned to the AAU and signaled the end of the truce which had been arranged by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The truce was to have lasted until the end of the Tokyo Olympic Games.

The right to sanction events has been the disputed point in the struggle between the two groups and has continued for more than three years. The AAU claims the sole right to sanction meets.

The NCAA, however, reaffirmed the position taken in a resolution adopted last January.

The resolution stated: "The member institutions of the NCAA will support only those meets and tournaments which have obtained sanctions from the established sports federations in basketball, track and field, baseball and gymnastics."

The federations are backed by the NCAA.

Former All-America tackle Scott Appleton of Texas is an end and a middle linebacker for Sammy Baugh's Houston Oilers.

Duke quarterback Scotty Glacken holds the Blue Devil single-game record of four touchdowns. He did it last year in a 35-30 victory over Clemson.

Baseball Chiefs Due To Study Larger Loops

Frick Hopes Big Leagues To Grow To 12 Teams Each

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick's long dream, expansion of both the National and American leagues into 12-team circuits, will get a full airing here in a three-day summit meeting of club owners and general managers starting today.

The expansion theme is high on the agenda, along with a number of other important items such as the proposed switch of the Milwaukee franchise to Atlanta, presentation of a weekly television baseball spectacular for the 1965 season, completion of a new concept in minor league operations, a broadening promotional effort and a change in the present bonus rule.

Another important piece of business likely to be discussed, although not on the agenda, is the commissioner's office.

Frick already has notified owners he will not seek reelection when his current seven-year term expires next September.

A preliminary committee headed by the two league presidents, Joe Cronin of the American League and Warren Giles of the National, has been screening candidates to succeed the 70-year-old Frick.

Whatever possible action may be taken here, it is hardly likely anything will be made public until the annual winter league meetings at Houston at the end of this month.

It was learned, however, that Frick will attempt to convince the owners of the necessity of expansion in the near future, possibly by 1966.

The commissioner has preached such a plan for some time but the recent action taken by the Braves and agitation by several other clubs to shift their franchises have caused him to move his target date closer.

It is Frick's plan to create new major league teams in Seattle, Oakland, Dallas-Fort Worth and either Atlanta or Milwaukee, depending upon where the Braves eventually wind up.

The commissioner is certain to meet with serious opposition, especially from Cronin and Giles, who do not feel the time is right.

The promotional endeavor was discussed at length at a general managers' meeting in Pennsylvania last week.

The general managers, it has been learned, brought back some bad news to the owners, to the effect that the proposed Monday night TV spectacular idea has hit a snag.

Two major networks, NBC and ABC, reportedly advised they could not relinquish the programming time Monday or any other night. CBS already had announced that despite its new involvement in baseball with ownership of the Yankees, it was not interested.

In the 11 years of the Atlantic Coast Conference, Duke has won five football titles and has been co-champion twice.

With a capacity of 75,504 seats, the Cotton Bowl is the 12th largest stadium in the country.

Final Tiger Home Game Slated Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be the last time the Red and Black flags fly on the streets of Circleville this year.

The flags denote that the Tiger footballers are playing a home game. And tomorrow they host the Falcons of Franklin Heights.

In spite of the fact the South Central Ohio League is over, Coach Paul Starr said today spirit is exceptionally good on the football team.

"The boys feel it's not every week you get a chance to knock off a champion," Starr explained.

AND Franklin Heights is just that. The Falcons swept through opposition in the South Suburban League with ease in overall competition. They have lost only one game.

Against Pleasant View, one of the better common foes played by the two teams, Franklin Heights scored a 28-6 win while the Tigers lost 21-6.

And Franklin Heights apparently wants a win badly Friday, according to Coach Starr. They have scouted every game Circleville has played since the Wilmington tilt.

The Falcon grid staff no doubt remembers vividly the 41-2 thrashing handed their gridders last year by Circleville.

And so do many of the players on the "senior" team. There are 24 seniors carried on the roster. The entire starting defensive 11 is composed of 12th graders while 10 of the offensive starters are in their last year of school.

Not only do Circleville scouts feel that Franklin Heights is the biggest team the Tigers have played this year, they also feel it is one of the most balanced units. The Falcons apparently have no individual stars.

THEIR offense is similar to the Tigers.

Circleville will be operating at near full strength. Only defensive cornerman Mike Wells is a doubtful player. The sophomore gridders bruised his shoulder in Tuesday's practice. Although it is not a serious injury, it is none the less painful and will prohibit his playing.

Not only is the usual big crowd of Circleville fans expected at tomorrow's game, but a group from Parkersburg, W. Va. Coach Starr's hometown, will be here.

The Parkersburg High School football team, where Starr served as an assistant, has an open night on its schedule.

And Starr has received word that many of his former gridders, and his friends from "back home" will be here.

"I'M SURE hoping for a good game," he said this morning. "I told everybody back home that these Tigers are a real hardnosed bunch of fighters." The Circleville coach commented favorably on the support given the team by local fans this year.

"I've noticed that at many of the road games the Circleville supporters outnumber the hometown fans," at all the home games our side of the field is always full although the other side sometimes has some empty spots."

"It is certainly encouraging to coach where the town has so much interest in its youth as they do here."

menting favorably on the support given the team by local fans this year.

He is Howard Twilley, 180 pounds of competitive drive bundled into a 5-foot-10 package. He's one reason Tulsa University is the country's top passing team and Hurricane quarterback Jerry Rhyme is the nation's leading passer.

"He was the little fellow everybody else passed up," Tulsa Coach Glenn Dobbs said. "I had to be sold on him."

He broke into the line-up last year as a linebacker. He switched to offense after John Simmons, Tulsa's top receiver, was hurt — and his defensive days are over.

But Dobbs says Twilley could be one of the top defensive players in this part of the country if he weren't so valuable as a receiver.

With four games left to play, Twilley needs 14 receptions to break the season record of 70 set by Larry Elkins of Baylor last year and another 292 yards would break the mark of 1,007 yards gained by Vern Burke of Oregon State in 1962.

He also leads national scoring with 68 points on eight touchdowns and 20 extra points — both catching and kicking — and could become the first end ever to top point-makers.

Doctors said Wednesday they are optimistic about saving the arm of Oklahoma State University basketball player Bob Swaffar, who lost the limb in an accident Sunday night.

Swaffar's arm was rejoined in a lengthy operation after it was torn off halfway between the shoulder and elbow.

Doctors reported blood flow is good in the 20-year-old athlete's arm.

One of the big dangers now, they said, is the possibility of infection and blood clots.

Swaffar's arm was caught in a laundry water extractor machine in the school fieldhouse at Stillwater.

Archie Roberts, Columbia quarterback, set an Ivy League record this fall when he completed 19 passes in 35 attempts in a losing cause against Princeton.

Ohio Dems Add 4 More Congressional Seats

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Johnson's avalanche election victory in Ohio will give the Buckeye delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives a new look.

Riding the crest of the President's sweeping triumph over Sen. Barry Goldwater, Ohio Democrats took four seats away from Republicans Tuesday, including the at-large seat Robert Taft Jr. vacated to make an unsuccessful bid for the Senate.

The Democrats returned all six incumbents, four by convincing margins, making the new lineup 14 Republicans and 10 Democrats.

The GOP went into the election with a solid 18-6 advantage.

The biggest casualty was Oliver P. Bolton, who gave up his 11th District seat to seek the at-large post. Bolton fell to Robert E. Sweeney, 40, a Cleveland lawyer and father of 10, in a sharp clash. The secretary of state's complete and unofficial returns showed Sweeney with 1,865,865 to Bolton's 1,711,918.

Bolton's setback marked the finish to Congress' only mother-son team. Bolton's mother, Mrs. Frances P. Bolton, was one of

Jones To Show Dairy Cattle At Chicago

Pickaway is among the many Ohio counties from which entries are reported for the 1964 International Live Stock Exposition, to be held at Chicago, Ill. Nov. 27 to Dec. 5.

Reuben Jones, a Washington Twp. dairy farmer, will be exhibiting in the purebred Holstein cattle competitions of the Chicago show which this year celebrates its 65th anniversary as the country's foremost stock show. It is the close and climax of the stock show year which annually begins in early summer with the State and County Fairs and winds-up in Chicago at the International.

This year's exposition will feature competition for 39 breeds of purebred farm animals, and total entries are expected to reach the 10,000 mark. It will fill to capacity the 13-acre International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards.

Championship Rodeo competition is scheduled at all 41 performances of the International Horse Show during the exposition's 9-day run.

Tax Receipts Continue Rise In County

Sales tax collections in Pickaway County continue to rise for the current fiscal year, according to a report from the office of John D. Herbert, state treasurer.

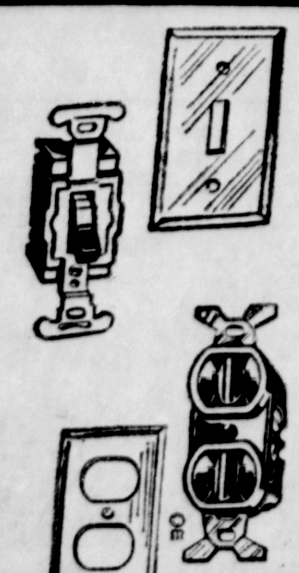

Herbert reports collections for the two-week period ending Oct. 31 were $10,307.56, bringing the total for the year to $11,210.19.

At the end of October one year ago, collections totaled $107,780.54.

Motor vehicle tax collections are still ahead of collections for a similar period last year, although the collections for the two week period just ended show a slight dip.

Receipts reported for the fiscal year are $90,953.24 compared to $83,448.37 for one year ago.

However, receipts for the two week period ending Oct. 31 were $7,474.94 compared to $1,019.12 taken in during a similar period last year.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The average television set — and there are now almost 62 million of them in almost 52 million American homes — was in use for 5 hours and 36 minutes a day during the two-week period ending Oct. 11, according to the latest Nielsen estimate. A year ago the estimate for the same period was 5 hours and 6 minutes.

That statistic pretty well demolishes the frequently expressed opinion — maybe it is just a wan hope — that the vast audience after all these years is finally becoming more selective about its viewing. It looks as if we are watching it more, even if we do hear more complaints about enjoying it less.

As far as our favorite viewing hours are concerned, the Nielsen figures indicate that between 6 and 7 p.m. some 41 per cent of our sets are turned on. Between 7 and 8, it climbs to 54 per cent and moves up to around 64 per cent during the next two hours. Then it drips off sharply to 52 per cent from 10 to 11.

It looks as if one of the season's first casualties will be NBC's "Bill Dana Show," which probably will disappear from NBC's Sunday night lineup some time in December. Another — and a big one — in trouble is "90 Bristol Court," the economy-size package of three situation comedies under one title.

Replacement for the latter is likely to be an hour Western which will put Chuck Connors back in a 10-gallon hat and blue jeans, plus a half-hour comedy.

Woodward New Prexy For Lions

Frank Woodward Jr. was unanimously named to move into the office of Lions Club president when the organization met this week at the Wardell Party Home.

Woodward stepped up from the office of first vice president. He moves into the chair vacated by the resignation of George Wharton.

Wharton expressed his thanks to the club for his confidence and said that his employment requires that he move to Columbus.

Other changes in the officer staff were: Forrest Thomerson, from second to first vice president; Walden Reichelderfer, from third to second vice president; Nolan Sims Jr., elected to fill the office of third vice president.

MEMBERS of the Pumpkin Show committee reported that the Lions float earned a second place and the club's booth operation was successful.

Two guests were present — Doyle Spangler of the Cellar Lumber Co., and Paul Langland, government and history teacher at Circleville High School.

President Woodward announced that the next zone meeting will be 7 p. m. Nov. 9 at the fire station at Pickerington. Members desiring to attend may contact the president.

Second Aviation Class Tonight

An aviation ground school, recently formed here, will hold its second session tonight.

The school, a cooperative venture which charges no entrance fee, will convene at 8 p. m. in the offices of Scioto Building and Loan, W. Main St.

Leon Ostrander, holder of a flying instructor's license and head of the Ostrander Flying Service at Thomas Field, is conducting the class.

Chet McKenzie, Scioto B&L manager, said that about 51 persons interested in the fundamentals of air flight attended the initial session last week. Plans are to hold the school each Thursday as long as interest is maintained.

Cambodia is among the smallest countries of Southeast Asia — about the size of Washington state.
